O JUST AND FAITHFUL KNIGHT OF GOD!
RIDE ON! THE PRIZE IS NEAR.

SO PASS I HOSTEL, HALL AND GRANGE;
BY BRIDGE AND FORD, BY PARK AND PALE;
ALL ARM'D I RIDE, WHATE'ER BETIDE;
UNTIL I FIND THE HOLY GRAIL.

HELP AT CORONATION

The Barony is hosting the next coronation in the Outlands. We (all crazy autocrats) will need your help. Set up, tear down, crash space, gofers, native guides, serving, kitchen clean up and general hand holding are all needed. Please contact the overall autocrat (Selene) to volunteer, but remember, insanity is setting in (it sounds much nicer than senility), so please be patient.

THANK YOU!

OUTLANDS ARTS AND SCIENCES COMPETITION

The first Arts and Sciences Competition for the Kingdom of the Outlands will be held in the Shire of Fontaine dans Sable over the weekend of March 7 & 8, A.S. XXI. We are hoping that many from our populace will join in this competition and other scheduled activities.

We invite our neighbors of Atenveldt, and any others, to share their talents and join in our Competition. A Guest Champion will be declared from among those who travel to compete. The Guest Champion will be the entrant whose scores have the highest total points. There is no minimum number of entries, but only the highest 12 scores will be totalled out of a maximum of 15 entries.

To encourage those who tend to spend more time on the fighting field then with the arts, we will be holding a Prize Tournament. The only qualification for entry into the Prize Tournament is that one must enter at least 2 items into the A & S Competition. There are many talented fighters and we hope that you will find that entering even more items into the Competition will be possible with the subcategories available.

A Grand Prize will be awarded to both the Outlands Champion and our Guest Champion. There will also be prizes awarded for the winners of each of the 22 separate categories. The entrants have put a lot of time and energy into their entries and we fell this is just recognition of their skills. We would like for the prizes to be not only representative of the category entered, but they should also be representative of our talented Outlanders. We therefore request that Baronies, Shires, and individuals donate a prize for this Competition. The Kingdom will be providing the Grand Prizes. Please register and send your prize donation to Lady Beatrix whose address appears at the end of this section. Please donate or pledge a prize as soon as possible. Thank you.

More specifics on the event itself will be forthcoming in the February HERALD and will be distributed to the local groups as details are known. In order for the prospective entrants to prepare themselves and their articles for entry, the Rules and pre-registration materials follow.

Many of the complaints from those who have sat through registration, judging and scroll preparation was that they could not enjoy the event and usually worked through the night preparing the results. In order to place more responsibility on the entrants we have decided to try a pre-registration process. The more entrants who pre-register the less work to be done at the site. This is new, but please work with us to make this a smooth-running, enjoyable competition.

This is only a brief discourse of the information about the event and we realize that it has been lengthy. It is also realized that this event is of great importance and benefit for our Kingdom. Please prepare yourself and your entries and plan to attend this our first Competition as a Kingdom. Come share your talents and skills and learn of the others talents as well. For more information regarding anything to do with this Competition, please feel free to contact:

Tudor Costume Workshop
Lord Harold Thredar

With appologies to Lady Phyllis, I'm stealing her idea for a Month of Sundays. At the behest of several folk from Aarquelle (and even a few from Dragonsspine) I am going to host a series of Tudor (and Elizabethan) costuming workshops during March.

The Tudor period extends from the reign of Henry VII (1475) through Elizabeth I (1604). The Tudor garb which I usually wear is that of Great Harry (Henry VIII) my late, and not altogether lamented, sire. The articles which comprise my garb are the basis of all male garb throughout this century.

The (forgive the pun) foundation of all Tudor male garb is the hosen or tights. The undershirt (of which only the collar and cuffs are normally seen) exists only slightly modified throughout the period although ruffs replaced the collar toward the end. The over-shirt and the slops (short pants) also transitioned into doublet and puffed pants during Elizabeth's reign. The vest and over-dress were only in vogue during the reign of Henry VIII, Edward VI, and Mary Tudor (Bloody Mary).

I will cover the subjects of tights, undershirt, over-shirt, slops, vest and over-dress, hats, shoes and (if there is sufficient interest) the great cloak (also called a gown). Tudor fabrics were rich velvets, brocaides, fine linens, silks, satins and furs. Only the most wealthy (and of course, Henry, Mary and Elizabeth) wore garments made exclusively from these expensive fabrics. The vast majority of the nobility used the expensive fabrics only where they would be visible and used common fabrics underneath. This is the prime reason that we will only address the great cloake if there is great interest. I almost never wear mine. It is too hot for normal indoor wear and I almost never wear court garb out of doors. The cloake is the one item on which only inferiors cut corners. A good cloake is very expensive, even by Tudor standards.

I have neglected to mention female Tudor. This is probably due to the fact that I don't wear it. However, I have agreed to make a Tudor gown for Milady Amber Grimalkin so that she will have something appropriate to wear when she waits on the head table at Coronation. Anyone who wishes may join me and we will learn together.

The workshop meeting will begin at 1:30 p.m. and continue as long as necessary. We will meet in my home so that I can't forget essentials. I hope to have pattern paper available so that everyone can go home with a complete set of patterns and won't end up trying to borrow mine. For the first meeting, you'll need note taking materials only.

1st Sunday Mar ~~1~~ 8	Tights, undershirt Fabrics and sources
2nd Sunday Mar ~~8~~ 15	Box pleating and Knife pleating - collar and cuffs Hats & shoes Techniques for the over-shirt
3rd Sunday Mar ~~15~~ 22	Making the over-shirt Making the slops Modifying the over-shirt & slops for Elizabethan

BARDIC ARTS

The Caerthen College of the Bardic Arts will be holding a BARDIC CIRCLE on Saturday, August 19th at 7:30 in the evening. All those who are willing to present a piece are welcome. We want storytellers, actors, musicians, dramatists, vocalists, in short, all those who are interested in performing in a Bardic setting. We especially want to invite those who just wish to listen, for any Bardic endeavour works better before an appreciative audience. The site will be announced in the August issue of The Fortress. This event will be a non-formal, relaxed evening for those who are unable to go to the Pensic war, or for those who are tired of outdoor events.

If you are interested in presenting something, please contact Lady Aleen at 830-2373 (Monday and Wednesday evenings are best). If you do not contact me and still wish to do something at the Bardic Circle, that will be alright also, but I would like to know how many are interested in this event (as performers, or audience).

GRAND RUSTIC III

Fighters, fencers, and archers - the incipient shire of Glen Ora challenges you to a contest again, to see who can be the Iron Lord! Or Lady! On August 26-27, we are holding Grand Rustic III.

We have fun and games planned for all, some guaranteed to get you dirty (bring a change of clothes for the feast). The Iron Lord competitors will participate in fighting or fencing, archery, knife and star, muckle poo shotput, duck and goose quarterstaff melee (rumor has it that the ducks and geese are arming themselves!). This is definitely a wet site, plenty of camping and running water, but due to drought no open fires.

There is a feast of gargantuan proportions planned, including beef burgundy, duck in currant sauce, and of course our legendary salad bar. A Sunday morning breakfast will be served and sandwich fixings and feast leftovers will be put out Sunday afternoon. Also we will again be holding the auction to benefit the Kingdom, so please bring items to donate.

Fees are $2.00 per person (site), $7.00 feast, smalls under 12 half price, under 6 free. $3.00 site fee for those who just come up for the day. We are limiting the number of feast reservations to 100, due to site limitations. If available at the door, fees for the feast are $10.00 adult, children half price. Make all checks payable to SCA Glen Ora.

To Glen Ora - Take I-25 to 180, head east 20 miles, take the Hillsdale exit, follow signs and head east 2 miles, turn left on County Road 142 for 5 miles, go around big curve in road (SLOW DOWN), and site is big green house after the 25 MPH sign.

Camping will start the night of the 25th.

UNSER HAFEN DEFENDER AND CAERTHAN WARLORD/PREMIER BLADE

AVE! Centurion Titus Claudius Severus, Unser Hafen Defender, the Shire of Unser Hafen, His Grace Duke Sir Verron, Warlord of Caerthe, Lord Bjarg, Premier Blade of Caerthe, and the Barony of Caerthe proudly announce the VIth annual Unser Hafen Defender and the Caerthan Warlord and Premier Blade Tourney. Due to scheduling problems, these events have been combined.

The event will be held in the Roman Camp at Windhover Cliff, the site of Coronation, on September 16 and 17. See the map included with this article.

There will be a heavy weapons prize list to choose the Unser Hafen Champion. The citizen of Unser Hafen who places highest in the list will be Unser Hafen Defender. Also on Saturday will be an open field melee to capture the Eagle of the opposing side. On Sunday there will be special Roman melees and gladitorial games. From these fighting events, the noblest Caerthan will be selected as Caerthan Warlord.

On Saturday night there will be a Roman style Banquet, Oration competition, and a dramatic presentation of the story of Persephone and Demeter. The Banquet's menu is included in this article. It will cost $8.00 for feast reservations received before September 10, 1989. Feast reservations received after this date or made at the event will cost $12.00. This Banquet will of course feature Roman Cuisine! It will be excellent. The Banquet will be in a site to be named in the next OH, it will not be at Windover Cliff.

This will be a camping event with fun and games for everyone and at least one Bardic fire. The site's well cannot handle the demand this event will put on it, so WATER MUST BE BROUGHT IN. PETS MUST BE KEPT LEASHED AT ALL TIMES. Please bring plenty of personal bug repellent as no spraying is done on site. There is road access to the tourney field, the camping areas, and for emergencies, but all cars shall be parked in designated parking areas. The site farmhouse is not for group use. FIRE IS ALLOWED ONLY IN THE CAMPING AREA FIRE PIT. IF A "NO FIRE" RULE IS IN EFFECT NO FIRES OPEN OR CONTAINED WILL BE PERMITTED. THIS MAY INCLUDE CIGARETTES. To lessen the effects of dust, please drive slowly on site.

There will be an auction of various wares from Unser Hafen.

Bring your togas and chitons and renew your citizenship in the Roman Empire. The Roman Army Wants You! SPQR!

SITE FEE: $4.00

THREE AND A HALF SHINES TO THE WINDS OASIS EVENT

You are traveling wearily across the plains of the northern Outlands; the mountains in the west are seemingly an impossible distance away; when you come upon a green and pleasant place to find the four northernmost groups of the Outlands have prepared a gala event for your pleasure and participation.

The dates are 27 and 28 June, A.S. XXI/1987 and the place is the Crow Creek Campground in Pawnee National Grassland, Brigsdale, CO. (Site map to be published next month).

In fairness to all aspects of the S.C.A., we are working out a point system for all who enter either the Arts & Sciences Competitions and or the Fighting Events. We feel this will give all who participate an equal chance at being named "Champion" or whatever title we decide is best to use.

To keep our valiant fighting participants from being overcome by the summer's sun and heat, we will be holding a "moonlight" tournament for them. This site has a lighted softball field (whatever that is), that will provide an excellent lists field.

In addition to these major attractions, we also plan carnival games, quests, trivia quizzes and a scavenger hunt. There will be categories for all ages to enjoy.

The site restrictions are only those normally imposed by the National Forest Service. THIS IS A WET SITE.

On Site there are plenty of camping spaces, some of which have RV hookups. There is also some shade, running water, toilets, firepits, and a communal-type cooking area, which is covered and has both cooking and serving counters, electrical outlets and tables on which to feast. The last items, however, aren't under the covered area.

As there are four groups working on this event equally, we will be presenting all further details to the Knowne Worlde as we work them out. Please be patient with us, but rest assured that this will be a long-remembered event.

In addition to the Saturday Feast we will also be offering a Sunday Brunch. Bring your appetites as you won't leave hungry!

From the Knight Marshal:

Greetings to the populace. Summer is in full bloom, and it has been hot. Fighters and non-fighters alike need to be sure to drink plenty of water at events and to take precautions against our intense Outlandish sun. Heat exhaustion and heat stroke are very unpleasant conditions that can sneak up on the wariest of warriors.

I have been rather scarce lately due to mundane adventures. If I am not around when you have a question about fighting, please ask my deputy, Galen of Shadowraven. I will be back full time toward the end of August. Fighter practice is still at 1:30 pm every Sunday at Spring Creek Park, unless there is a local event.

Lord Kevin's Plunder Tourney was a great success. Ten fighters participated in the round robin tourney. Each fighter had to draw at random the weapons he or she would use before each fight, so we all got exposed to some styles we had never used, and some wierd combinations resulted. Most of the draws did not involve shields, a scary thought for most of us. However, there was some really good fighting and everyone had a good time. There was some nice plunder, which probably helped to encourage the fighters.

Word of the Outlands-Atenveldt war has reached me. WE WON! Rather handily, too, as I understand. There were a number of different melees which accumulated points toward victory, among them an Outlands knights vs. Atenveldt knights (we lost that one, alas) and an Outlands non-knights vs. Atenveldt non-knights, which the Outlands won under the command of our own Lord Kevin McKinnon.

I had planned to address period fencing this month, but as I am short of time, I will leave that until next month when I can properly treat the subject. Instead, I will discuss a rather delicate subject that has been on many people's minds of late, including the Earl Marshal of the Society. I recommend that every fighter read his report in the most recent Tournaments Illuminated. He discusses the SCA arms race. It is a widespread problem, and though it is not as rampant here as it is other places, it is something we all need to think about, because our honor is at stake.

It starts when someone starts calling blows a little harder. Maybe he's tired of losing; maybe he has upgraded his armor and isn't used to it yet; maybe nobody ever taught him just what the conventions for calling blows are. So people have to start hitting harder. That hurts, so he gets better armor. But he can't feel light blows anymore, so people hit even harder, and finally somebody gets out of control, and somebody gets seriously hurt.

Calling blows is a matter of personal honor. The marshals are not supposed to do it for the fighters, unless in their opinion, the combatants are fighting unsafely. We must all remember that whatever armor we are actually wearing, we are all assumed to be similarly armored, in a thigh-length chain mail shirt and an open-faced helmet. This means that any blow to the face, no matter how light, is disabling. Your arms and legs are lightly armored, and you shouldn't have to have them removed to have them disabled. Chain mail is pretty sturdy against slashes, so a cut to the body should be firm, but the mail guides points right in, so a thrust need not lift you off your feet to be good. Mass weapons, like maces, axes, spears and glaives, give killing blows when they strike a hip or a shoulder -- they don't just take the arm or leg. Shield punching is not legal. Period. It is extremely dangerous and is grounds for being thrown off the field.

We should remember, too, that the object of a tourney is to best your opponent by skill, not to dismember him. A well-placed, controlled blow should be more effective than wild flailing. When you are in control, if your opponent moves and your shot goes low, you can pull it to keep from hurting him. In practice, there is no need to go out and pound people as though it were Crown Tourney. Practice is the time to drill and try new things. It is certainly not worth getting hurt.

Melees can be confusing, and many times in the heat of the moment, people will misjudge a shot. However, we all need to be more aware of where the blows are coming from and where they are hitting, and we must be honest with ourselves. So what if no one else saw the blow land; if you were in a real battle, that wouldn't matter a bit. A real blow would have felled you, and you wouldn't have had time to think about it.

The most dangerous thing about melees is being blindsided. Even when killing from behind is allowed (which I don't like, myself), it is done by placing the blade across the vicitm's visor and telling him, "You're dead, my lord." Never, under any circumstances, hit anyone from behind. It is illegal and dangerous. Be sure you have eye contact with your opponent before hitting him. If you aren't sure, wait. I have been blindsided several times recently and it is very scary. Be extremely careful.

As the Society Marshal pointed out, we all have (alas!) jobs and school and other mundane commitments to attend to on Monday mornings. We can't do that if we're injured by our weekend fun. The marshals are empowered to enforce safety regulations. They are encouraged to stop fights they consider unsafe, to remove fighters who are acting in a dangerous manner.

I intend to vigorously enforce these regulations within my jurisdiction, and I encourage all fighters to assess the way they fight. Think about how you call blows, how you would like your opponents to call blows. Remember that how you fight is an expression of your personal honor, and that a chivalrous act will long outshine a questionable victory. If you have any question about how to call blows, talk to the marshals. Try calibrating shots with your opponents before each fight. That way you will both know what to expect, and hopefully conflicts and bad feelings can be avoided.

In service to Shire, Kingdom and Society,

Lady Uamhei aethnen
